Zieleman Joins JFM as new Calf Specialist

Jones Feed Mills is excited to announce that Lisa Zieleman of the Listowel area has recently joined JFM in the role of Market Support Specialist, focusing her efforts as Tom Mosterd's successor as the JFM Dairy Calf Specialist. Originally from The Netherlands, Lisa immigrated with her family to Canada to farm. The Zieleman family began their new life in the Fergus area, later moving to Listowel where their family milks approximately 200 cows. Lisa is a graduate of Ridgetown College where she focused her studies on dairy herd management. Lisa has a lot of experience working with calves as seen by her work both at home and on some of the area's larger dairy farms. Further, last year, Lisa worked on a large commercial dairy in New Zealand where her team was responsible for calving out 2,500 cows over a 2-month period. Lisa's role on this farm was to care for and raise the calves from birth to weaning. When asked about her new role with Jones, Lisa comments "I look forward to be able to share my passion for calves and being able to learn; so that I can assist farmers to better the health and growth of their calves." Lisa is currently spending time on the road with the Jones Dairy Team, as well as with Tom Mosterd, who has made himself available to help train Lisa. Lisa will soon be receiving training at the Akey/Provimi Calf Research Farm in Ohio. When asked to comment about Lisa, Tom Mosterd says, "I'm very excited to see that Jones has hired someone who is so committed to calves and calf research to continue this role." In her spare time Lisa enjoys going to Crossfit, spending time with my family and friends, reading and quilting. Lisa also volunteers as a Gems counsellor at their church. Welcome Lisa!
